

Solve the Mystery of the Three Lead Coffins Table of Contents

- Page 1-2  A radar records a large object.
- Page 3-4  Archaeologists and historians investigate.
- Page 5-6  Dr. Riordan plans to excavate.
- Page 7-8  The dig begins.
- Page 9-10  Three coffins are uncovered.
- Page 11-12  The dig team reburies the coffins.
- Page 13-14  The archaeologists ask for help.
- Page 15-16  Different groups wanted different information:
  - Archaeologists and historians - who was buried in the coffins?
  - Forensic scientists and archaeologists - how did the people live and die?
  - Environmental scientists - how did air inside the coffins compare to air today?
- Page 17-18  The groups' goals contradict each other.
- Page 19-20  Others help.
  - How the U.S. Army helped
  - How the Navy helped
  - How private companies helped
  - The Air Extraction System
- Page 21-22  The team is ready to move ahead.
- Page 23-24  Crowds watch the dig begin.
- Page 25-26  The smallest coffin is opened.
  - The results of the Air Extraction test
- Page 27-28  The team examines the body found inside the smallest coffin.
- Page 29-30  The teams looks at the body found in the middle-sized coffin.
- Page 31-32  The team takes the top off the largest coffin.
- Page 33-34  Crystals.
- Page 35-36  The team breaks into smaller groups.
  - What the forensic scientists and archaeologists found out about the bodies.
  - The archaeologists and historians found clues about the man whose body was
  - found in the largest coffin.
- Page 37-38  The team examines the clues to figure out who was buried in the largest coffin.
  - INTERACTIVE: Solve the Mystery of the Three Lead Coffins
- Page 39-40  The team solves part of the mystery.
- Page 41-42  Who is the child?
- Page 43-44  Scientists are still studying the coffins.